WILL TRY PATROL SYSTEM ON ROADS

State Highway Commissioner Cunningham Arranges His Plans

WILL COST MORE; WORTH IT

State Highway Commissioner Robert J. Cunningham has announced that on August 1 the patrol system of maintenance will be established on state highway routes. Caretakers will be employed and each man will be assigned to a designated section of highway for the maintenance and repair of which he will be held responsible. One hundred and ninety men will be placed on this work at the start and the territory covered will extend through 46 counties. The men will be paid at the rate of 15 to 20 cents an hour, depending upon the scale of wages for labor in their districts. This will mean an annual expenditure of $120,000 a year or a maintenance cost of $65 a mile per year for the state highways.

Great care is being exercised in the selection of the patrol men and State Highway Commissioner Cunningham is determined to have none but sober, honest and industrious

A. V. GRAHAM DIES AT RIPE OLD AGE OF 84

Monongahela's Oldest Resident Falls Dead While Disrobing for Night—Mrs. Mary G. Noss is One of Daughters.

In the death of Aeneas V. Graham aged 84, at his home at Monongahela Thursday night. Monongahela loses its oldest original citizen and a man most highly respected in the community.

Mr. Graham was apparently in his usual health and sat talking with his friends until about 10 o'clock. He started to retire and was disrobing when Mrs. Graham saw him fall over. When she arrived at his side he was dead.

Mr. Graham was born in Monongaheda on March 24, 1831 on the corner of Second and Chess streets, where today stands the home of John M. Sutman. He was the son of Aeneas and Sarah Depew Graham. He received his early education in the Monongahela schools and later learned the trade of moulder. He continued in this pursuit and November 15, 1855, married Miss Amanda Underwood of Washington. He resided in Washington a few years and then came to Monongahela where he had virtually resided since.

He later purchased the foundry of George A. Keller and operated it for many years on the Keller property adjoining Hotel Main. Later he moved it to Park avenue and eventually sold out. He then moved to his farm at Victory and later came back to live in his Park avenue property. Some few years ago he and his wife moved to California to reside with their daughter Mrs. Mary G. Noss, and upon her removal to Athens, Ohio, they accompanied her, returning to Monongahela but recently.

Mr. Graham was a consistent member of the Methodist Episcopal church and was a staunch follower of Republican principles.

CHARLERDI GETS AWAY WITH CONTEST PLACES

Local Odd Fellows Capture First Place in Two Events at Annual Picnic Held at Kennywood Park On Friday.

At the Odd Fellows' picnic at Kennywood park a good program of athletic events was held, but Charleroi athletes got away only with two of the events. One of these was the tug of war between Monongahela and Charleroi and the other was the ball throwing contest, which was won by Herman Paxton of Charleroi. The picnic was decidedly interesting all the way through, the large crowd enjoying itself thoroughly. One of the features, a baseball game, was won by a Monessen-Donora team against a picked team from the other lodges.

ARREST FOR MOFFITT MURDER IS MADE IN WEST VIRGINIA

Peter Dailey Taken in Custody by County Authorities at Eccles

KILLING AT BROWNSVILLE

Blacksmith Found in His Rooms, Badly Cut and Bruised in Fight on January 8—Effort Made to Locate Three Men.

Charged with complicity in the murder of Charles Moffitt, an aged blacksmith at West Brownsville on the night of January 8, Peter Daily was arrested at Eccles, W. Va. on Friday. This was one of two sensations in the county Friday, the other being in the arrest of Reuben Warren at McKeesport for the murder of Constable Peter J. Kromer at New Eagle on January 19.

A telegram was received Friday by District Attorney R. G. Miller from J. M. Crouse, deputy sheriff informing him that a Peter Dailey wanted in this county for murder was in custody at Eccles, W. Va. The deputy sheriff was sent word to hold the man until County Detective F. H. Mitchell could reach there. Detective Mitchell secured the necessary papers and Friday evening left for Harrisburg to secure requisition papers.

Charles Moffitt was found dead in his blacksmith shop at West Brownsville having been fearfully beaten. Wounds had been inflicted that caused his death. The shanty where he lived showed signs of a desperate struggle. There was evidence that there had been drinking in the shanty. Joseph Roberts was arrested in connection with the crime but after being held in jail for several weeks, was released under bail. The grand jury had held him and also Peter Dailey and Sam Roberts. The latter two had skipped out an efforts have been made for some time to apprehend them. Sam Roberts has never been located. It is said he knows more about the killing than either of the other two. It is known he hastily left that section the night Moffitt was killed.

SAYS THAT NEGRO THREATENED LIFE

Woman of Near Monessen Claims Murderer of Husband Planned to Shoot Her

POLICE LOOKING FOR MAN

The tragic death of Joseph Smith, aged 58, who was shot while defending his wife from a negro in their hut on the outskirts of Monessen on the morning of June 20 last was recalled Friday when the murdered man's widow while visiting the scene of the tragedy was attacked by a negro, who leveled a revolver at her at the some time declaring that he would "finish her as I did the old man."

State troopers and Monessen police have been scouring the surrounding country district, but have been unable to find any trace of the negro. Mrs. Smith told the police that she had gone for a walk and passing the hut, decided to spend a few minutes on the spot where her husband met his death.

Mrs. Smith has been living at the home of John Dawson a few miles from her former home since her husband's death. She told the police that she had been in the hut about five minutes when a tall negro entered.

Without a moment's warning the negro pulled a large revolver from his pocket and seized Mrs. Smith by the right arm. "I killed the old man and I've come to finish you," the negro said, according to Mrs. Smith. Seeing an automobile approaching Mrs. Smith screamed and the negro fled a cross the fields, disappearing in a wooded section. Two men in an automobile assisted Mrs. Smith from the hut and took her home. She is suffering from the shock.

THE FARMER AND BANKER

The significance of the farm mortgage, it appears, is just now disclosing itself to bankers. The head of a large bank in the east, who has been making an investigation, has found that farmers are not, as he supposed, borrowing money because farming is not profitable. They are borrowing money because farming is not profitable. They are borrowing, on the contrary, because farming is profitable, says the McKeesport News. Now and then of course, crop failure, due to one cause or another, sent the farmer to capital for a loan, but in most instances, the banker learned, farmers borrow in order to extend their operations, increase their acreage, take in more land under their control and management.

He had believed—with a good many others—that farmers sought loans only when driven to it by the pinch of necessity, and that they were, as a rule mortgaging the future to make up for a loss of the past. Now he sees things in a different light. He could have had this view of farming and farm loans long before perhaps, if the farmer was not poor at explanation and not very definite with figures. The banker on the other hand, has not been inclined to acquit himself sufficiently with the farmer's business. Neither has understood the other.

The fault lies mainly with the bankers. Many of them have been slow to realize that farm conditions have changed. A quarter of a century ago it was probably true that a majority of farm loans were negotiated because crop expectations were not realized and the farmer needed capital to finance the crop of the future. And that was risky security for the banker. But this is no longer the rule. Advanced methods, increased knowledge of soil and crop requirements, rotation, seed selection, improved tillage, modern machinery, bigger returns and higher prices for the produce—all these have combined to give a new aspect to farming. It is less a speculation now and more of a business than it used to be.

And as such it is beginning to be accepted even in the most conservative quarters. Capital is far more friendly toward it today than it was ten, or even five years ago. It understands it better. It will profit itself, moreover, if it continues to improve its knowledge of farming and farm finance. It needs to know what farmers are doing. The eastern banker has set a good example.

IS THE COLONIAL DESERTING

Col Roosevelt seems to have deserted the straggling remnant of the army that threw itself in a mighty onslaught upon the Republican party at Armageddon. In the two weeks' trip he is to make across the continent to discuss "World Politics" at the San Francisco fair, the Colonel has refused to make more than four short stops to distribute words of praise and heartening to the battered survivors, declares the Washington News.

How different it was a short year ago! When he was beseeching them to risk all for him, when ambition's realization seemed to rest in their hands, a dozen speeches a day were not too many for the doughty Colonel to deliver. Words of wisdom poured forth from his lips like unto those of Solomon. Promises of the near approach of the dawn of the political millenium, of the uncorking of the horn of plenty and the rout of the infidels who did not have the foresight or the perception to see the imperial grandeur of Colonel Roosevelt in the crystal waters of a bubbling spring.

Now, save the mark. The dust of the mountain found its way into his throat and his throat swept into his handkerchief for a shudder like unto the Ark of Noah, since they are no longer of any service to him, he chooses to ignore the low drone of shattered petitioners upon his hands.

Thirty-three patients were admitted to the Charleroi-Monessen hospital during the month of June. This is a pretty good number. There was but one death. Taking the record of the month as a whole, improvement is shown in affairs, but for that matter improvement at the local institution has been steady since last spring, when charges were made. Now there is greater support being given by the people of the community. Such things are going to make the hospital a lasting and a most valuable institution.

Of course people are glad at the increased efficiency of the parcel post system, but still they don't like to feel that the encroachment of the package delivery service means delay of the regular mail service. There ought to be some way of bettering both at the same time.

The celebration Friday was marred of course by the two postponements of date, and inclement weather of Friday, yet it was a success. Such celebrations help a lot and the only trouble is there are not enough of them.

The freeing of Thaw is bound to meet with the approval of many. But considering the whole case all the way through from beginning to end, not the best example of justice has been set. The influence of money has been too keenly felt.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Little Willie was sitting on the front porch of the happy home one Saturday afternoon, when reference was made to the Sunday dinner outlay.

"I was thinking about chicken," remarked mother, and then, turning to little Willie, queried: "Do you think you could eat some chicken tomorrow, Willie?"

"Could I?" responded Willie, with a great yearning expression. "You just bet a hundred on it!"

"All right, then," smiled mother "We'll make it chicken. What would you like it stuffed with?"

"Another chicken," was the prompt rejoiner of little Willie.—Philadelphia Telegraph.

When a man marries, says the Indianapolis Star, his bachelor friends are about equally divided in thinking that he is a nut or a mighty fortunate gink.

His wife's relatives plan to visit them during the county fair or the automobile show.

His own relatives plan to give his wife a good talking to if she proves to be extravagant.

His neighbors hope that he will prove to be a good hand at bridge and that his wife will throw as many teas at the rest of them.

His boss wonders how he can do it on the salary he is getting, but does not increase it.

His wife wonders why it is that a little house takes so much time to look after.

While a man himself is so excited all the time that he nearly loses his job—and doesn't realize it.

Ever notice that the man with the least money is always the fellow who has the most places to put it?

Any woman would rather be in style and look like a soused kitchen mechanic out for a night than wear something that is not stylish and look as though she had good sense.

Go into any bedroom in any house in town and you will find that the closet is so jammed full of friend wife's clothes that friend husband has to hang his rags on the floor or on a chair. But if you will listen around for awhile you will hear friend wife bawling out friend husband because she hasn't any clothes.

When a little paperweight is courting a big corn fed and the paperweight will sit on the corn fed's knee and call her his "little girl" and tell her that he will protect her. And, instead of swapping him with the fly swatter and sweeping him out, the corn fed lets him live because she, too, is in love and believes that the paperweight is the biggest man ever invented.

You can't blame a married man for not wanting to listen to advice when he is downtown. He gets plenty of it when he is at home.

And a woman can tell you that she would have rosy cheeks, too, if she smeared on a lot of rouge and was not content to dab on a little invisible pink.

Before he gets her he thinks she is a bird of paradise. After he gets her he has a suspicion that she belongs a little farther south than paradise.

GEORGE S. HORNBAKE SHERIFF CANDIDATE

George S. Hornbake, Jr.

George S. Hornbake, Jr., announces himself as a candidate for nomination for sheriff on the Republican ticket, subject to the decision of the Republican voters on Tuesday, September 21. Mr. Hornbake is one of the young men in public life in Washington county who has made himself very popular with the people. He is now rounding out his fourth year as deputy sheriff. During this time he has met most of the voters of the county and has made a host of friends who recognize his ability and worth to the public. George has been a faithful servant and deserves promotion. It has long been a custom to train a deputy to succeed to the office of Sheriff and George has certainly shown the business ability, the pluck and the good judgment required to make a succesful public official. His success in handling the difficult conditions which developed during the recent strikes among the railroad men and the coal miners stamped him as a man of exceptional executive ability. He handled these two strikes to the entire satisfaction of the public and came out of them with the friendship of all concerned. This was possible because he treated all with perfect impartiality and made every person observe the law.

Mr. Hornbake comes of one of the old reliable Republican families of Washington county. He was born in Coal Centre, where his father has been a building contractor for over fifty years. George was educated in the public schools, has had experience as a bank cashier and as assistant to his father in the contracting business. He is a young man of ability and strong personality and his friends know he is well qualified for the office of sheriff.

Chinese Currency.

Currency in China has had all sorts of surprises for the layman, but the present situation is simply extraordinary. There is now found to be an actual plethora of dollars and small coins, and since last August the Chinese have been melting them and converting them into sycee. The reason why dollars are being melted is that large issues of the provincial mints have found no use in the market, and as all Chinese accounts are in taels the present price of the dollar is not very conducive to its existence and circulation.

Motorcycle on Wall.

Going at a speed of from seventy-five to eighty-five miles an hour a motorcyclist succeeded in driving his machine around the perpendicular wall at the top of a motordrome. This is a regular amusement park feat for motor cars, but is seldom attempted with a motorcycle, since the machine must be driven at terrific speed and must stand out almost horizontally from the wall. It is a good example of the power of centrifugal force, as well as of the skill and nerve of the driver.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

How, and Why, —the GOODRICH "Fair-List" Propaganda now saves Car-Owners, yearly, over $25,000,000 on Tires

THERE are 1,923,951 Automobiles now State-licensed, and running, in the United States.

Of these, 1,803,951 are Pleasure Cars—i.e., exclusive of Trucks, etc.

More than 90% of them, or about 1,623,555, use Pneumatic Tires.

Each car will wear out and replace, on average, about one Set of Four Tires per year.

Therefore, the interests of each Car-Owner as well as each Car-Manufacturer, each Car-Dealer, and Salesman, is vitally and personally affected by the price of Tires to Consumers.

Because,—Tires and Gasoline are the two big items of consumption in the operation of Motor Cars.

The Owner who used his Car 1,000 Miles less per year, than he would have done, because of "the high-price of Tires and Gasoline," received that much less return from his entire investment in the Car proper.

The potential, or prospective, Car-Owner who fails to buy a Car because of "the high cost of Tires and Gasoline,"—he who sells his Car and does not buy again because of "the high cost of Tires and Gasoline"—or he who, for the same reason, stores his Car and does not run it during a considerable part of the year, is a direct loss to —1st—Automobile Manufacturers, as a class.

—2d —Automobile Dealers, as a class.
—3d —Garage Owners, as a class.
—4th—Lubrication & Gasoline Manufacturers, as a class.

But,—he is a greater loss to TIRE Manufacturers, and Dealers, as a class, than to any others.

Because,—

—Gasoline and Lubricants, for instance, can be sold to the Owners of Motor Boats, Stationary, and other Motors.

But,—Automobile Tires can only be sold, in the ultimate, to the man who OWNS a Car, and who wears out Tires through using it.

o o o

EVERY mile that each Automobile runs, means an automatic Sale of Tires to replace that mileage with new Tires.

But, all the Salesmanship, and all the Advertising, under the Sun, could not increase, by a single Tire, the total sales of Tires beyond the number of Cars owned by Consumers, and the number of Miles each Consumer runs his Car yearly.

The Market for Tires is therefore limited inflexibly, to the number of Cars running, and the Mileage which each Owner is induced to run yearly.

Therefore, we opine that to promote greater Sales, and greater use, of Automobiles, few better incentives can be offered than markedly-lowered cost, TO CONSUMERS, for Tires and Gasoline.

Just as we recognize that the only legitimate expansion open to the Tire Industry, as a whole, would be due to the Sale of more Automobiles each year to Consumers, with a greater average Mileage USE, per year, of each Car by each Owner.

That is why we favor the lowest possible price for Tires,—to Consumers, consistent with maintenance of high quality and a fair profit to Dealer and Mfr.

So this, then, is a leading reason why WE initiated, and propagated, that Goodrich "Fair-List" Movement which we publicly announced in the press on Jan. 31, 1915, and which caused practically every Pneumatic Tire Manufacturer in this Country to follow our lead and bring his prices down to a fairer level.

o o o

THIS is also the reason why some Tire Manufacturers, who could not, or would not, "meet" our BASIC prices for Pneumatic Tires (even though our "Fair-List" Propaganda obliged them to make heavy reductions off their former Lists) might erroneously suppose that "Goodrich" Tires have been cheapened in Quality, as well as in price.

Hence this explanation (to the Public, to Car-Manufacturers, Dealers, Car-Salesmen, Garages, and Tire Dealers generally) that we deem it "good business" to sell the best Goodrich Tires (of fabric construction) we have ever made, at the fairest price possible for such quality.

Hence, too, the following TEST offer to Consumers.

—We will cheerfully pay for any Goodrich Safety "Non-Skid" Tire, sold since our "Fair-List" price-reduction (announced on January 31, 1915), which when cut open shows any reduction in quality, in number of layers of Canvas, in thickness, or quality of Rubber, when compared with any other Goodrich Safety "Non-Skid" made by us, and sold at our higher prices current before the Goodrich "Fair-List" Movement.

And,—this is further to authorize any Tire-User to extend this Offer (at our expense) to any Tire Dealer, or Manufacturer.

We ask Car-Owners, and Tire Consumers, in their own interest, to see that no "implication" of lowered quality in Goodrich Tires goes unchallenged—just as we have protected their interests, for our own sake, through our "Fair-List" Propaganda.

o o o

BECAUSE of that GOODRICH "Fair-List" Propaganda, every Car-Owner who now buys any make of Tire sized 37 x 5, now saves on each set of 4 Tires, an average of about $46.27.

—Every Car-Owner who uses 34 x 4 Tires, of any make, now saves, through the Goodrich "Fair-List" Propaganda an average of about $26.15 per Set of 4 Tires.

Made as always——

—The same reliable Construction.

—The same dependable Service.

—Nothing whatever taken out of materials or Quality, no matter what reductions in List-Price are ever made.

—Every Car-Owner who uses 30 x 3½ Tires, now saves, through the Goodrich "Fair-List" Propaganda, an average of about $14.70 per Set of 4 Tires.

Other sizes in proportion.

The 1,623,555 State-licensed Car-Owners who use Pneumatic Tires now save about 20% of what they last year paid for ANY make and size, whether they be Goodrich or competing brands,—equal to more than $25,000,000 per year.

And, don't forget that this giant saving to Car-Owners was never mentioned to the Public by other Tire Manufacturing Concerns until the Goodrich "Fair-List" Propaganda made it imperative that they extend the Saving to Consumers on their Tires, or lose business to the Goodrich Co.

But, notwithstanding all this,—the fact which should loom largest to TIRE-USERS is the contrast of 10% to 40%, in prices, that still exists between the low price of the best Non-Skid Tires (of fabric construction) that money can buy, or the largest Rubber Factory in the World produce,—(to wit, GOODRICH Non-Skid Tires) and all other "responsible" Tires in the field.

Compare prices and see!

Then, if you are not already a Goodrich User, do yourself (and us), the justice to buy at least one GOODRICH "Non-Skid" Tire.

Test that out for Quality, Mileage and Resilience against any other Tire, at any price, which you are now using.

The result of such Test will cause you to wonder why you ever paid more for Maximum Quality, Mileage, and Resilience than the Basic price of Goodrich Non-Skid Tires?

NEIGHBORLY ADVICE

Freely Given by a Charleroi Citizen

When one has suffered tortures from a bad back and found relief from the aches and pains, that persons advice is of untold value to friends and neighbors. The following neighborly advice comes from a Charleroi resident.

Mrs. D. F. Worthington, 914 McKean avenue, Charleroi, says: "I was troubled by backache for years. The pains were so intense it made me sick all over. In the morning when I tried to get up, I was worse. Whenever I stooped, a sharp pain darted through me and I could hardly catch my breath. Often it was just as though a knife was being stuck into me. I was tired all the time. I had rheumatic pains throughout my body. My feet became swollen. Two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Piper Bros., Drug store relieved me of all symptoms of the trouble. I now take Doan's Kidney Pills once or twice a year as a kidney tonic and they always help me."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Worthington had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

UNCLE SAM'S SKI REGIMENT

Thirtieth Infantry May Add That to Their Many Proud Service Distinctions.

The United States transport Buford crept into New York harbor the other day, carrying the whole Thirtieth regiment of infantry, officers, men, band, headquarters, machine gun and ski detachments. Mark the ski detachment. There isn't a corps in the service that can match the Thirtieth in this unique distinction. You'd have to go to Norway or some such country to find other troops that can maneuver on curved boards.

The Thirtieth for the last two years and some months and days—any officer can tell you the exact term of service, with groans of disgusted reminiscence—has been stationed in Alaska, where winter begins in October and lasts through June. If one wants to get around after the snow comes, snow shoes or skis are absolutely essential, and as it is too cold for close order drills, the army officers have taught their men to maneuver on skis, the exercise being good for them and the accomplishment of value in a country like Alaska.

Lieutenant Osterman, battalion adjutant, promoted this work at Nome, and it met with great success, he said. He was obliged to formulate his own drill, but eventually he had a company of skiers who could do all the customary formations and maneuvers in line and column.

Aside from its ski detachment, the Thirtieth boasts another distinction—it is the first regiment to be shipped from one coast to the other by way of the Panama canal. Other regiments have been sent down to the Canal Zone to serve in the garrison, but no other has made a complete trip through it and from coast to coast.

THEIR GROCERY BILL

OF COURSE MA WAS MOST ECONOMICAL, BUT—

The Family Had to Have Butter and Anything But the Best, and Lots of It, Was Out of the Question.

"Our grocery bill is larger again this month," said pa, glumly, according to the Boston Globe. "We have got to cut down expenses."

"I'm sure I try," replied ma, in an injured tone. "I try to get along as economically as possible, but we must eat, and everything's 'out of sight.' Perhaps you can suggest where we can cut down."

"Well, I don't know just where. The children might get along without butter on their bread when they pile on jelly the way they do. Butter is a big item."

"Oh, pa, that would be terrible," cried Mary. "I guess you never tried just eating bread and jelly."

"Indeed, I have, and thought it was mighty good, too. Why, when I was a boy we made a whole meal off a couple of thick slices of bread spread with molasses, and no butter, either. I could eat a piece now if I had it."

"If you would buy things in the city and bring them home you could probably save money," suggested ma.

"Perhaps I could, but, unfortunately, my time is pretty well taken up earning what is respectfully called a salary. The best thing we can do is to move out where we can raise hens and vegetables. We can't keep on living here if prices keep going up."

"Why don't you ask for a raise?" suggested ma, hopefully.

"Lots of good it would do. Just now the company is retrenching and is more likely to cut salaries than to increase them."

"The idea," said ma, indignantly. "The trouble with you is you're afraid to ask. I bet I'd talk up to them. I'd just tell them I couldn't keep a family of six on such a small salary, and that I had to have more money."

"They should worry," replied pa, grimly. "I don't know where they are responsible for my having a wife and four children. Of course, if I don't want to stay, I can quit."

"They would never let you quit. They couldn't get along without you. Don't you do all the work, while Mr. Smith draws the big salary? He has a motor car and they go everywhere," said ma, waxing indignant.

"You compliment me, I'm sure," replied pa, "but you're not just wise to the situation. It would be very gratifying to think that I was so important, but unfortunately I am very well aware that there are several men perfectly willing to step in if I step out. No man is so important that the world couldn't get along without him. If I should quit it would cause some temporary inconvenience, but the sun, moon and stars would continue their daily routine, and the company would still do business at the old stand."

"I think they're just horrid, anyway, and I'd like to tell them so."

"Please don't. It might cause the whole board of directors to lose sleep—and they are strongly averse to losing anything."

"There's the order man," said ma. "Maggie, don't forget to order five pounds of the best butter."

New Use for Aluminum.

Indelible characters may be written or drawn on glass or porcelain and when treated with hydrochloric acid the surface covered by the characters becomes etched, through the use of a pencil of aluminum. When the characters are not etched, but burnished, they resemble inlaid silver. A Swiss scientist is the discoverer of this hitherto unknown property of aluminum. It is indispensable first to remove every trace of grease from the surface to be ornamented by polishing with chalk, else the aluminum will not take hold. As the effect is produced only on substances containing silicic acid, it has been suggested that an aluminum pencil would be an unerring detector of false diamonds. Magnesium, cadmium and zinc act in a similar manner, but their traces readily oxidize.

Americanisms.

Glancing over a farming article in an American paper, writes a correspondent of a London journal, I found myself "up against" this astounding record. "One calf was nursing two cows." By degrees the things that seemed to stand on their heads came to a natural position, for I remembered that in America it is the suckling that "nurses," and not the nurse. This topsy-turvy is due to a kind of characteristic prudery, which forbids such words as "sucking" or "suckling." But no such explanation applies to the verb "to feed." We feed a pig with acorns or a furnace with coke. The American, invariably, feeds acorns to the pig and feeds coke to the furnace, which is really not good English.

Under-Water Tocsins.

After the burning of the transatlantic steamship Columbia, one of the boats drifted for no less than two weeks in the path of transatlantic liners; but, although the wrecked seamen saw several steamers, they could not attract their attention by signals. Of the 15 men in the boat, 11 died before the boat was sighted. Had the lifeboat carried a submarine bell it could have signaled Atlantic steamers, even at a distance of several miles.

STOPS TRAIN SUDDENLY; TWO MEN ARE INJURE

Engineer Takes Prompt Action Save Life of Child Toddling Tracks at California.

Stopping a train of 10 empty steel cars raning at high speed so suddenly that the caboose on the rear was badly damaged and two men severely injured, to save a child toddling ahead of his train on the track was the feat of Engineer Frank McClain at California this week.

N. A. Lawrence of West Brownsville was bruised and James Magill of Charleroi was cut above the left eye. His left leg was severely bruised. The caboose was taken to West Brownsville for repairs.

The child ran away from its home in California and got on the track having a good time.

The train was on its way from Conway to West Brownsville Junction, and in charge of Conductor W. W. Hawkins of Charleroi.

The men were seated in the lower bunk. When the train stopped suddenly they were bumped against the walls of the caboose.

WILL TRY PATROL SYSTEM

men in these positions. They will be under the constant watch of the county superintendent and it will be necessary for them to devote their entire time and attention to the territory to which they are assigned. It is the intention, ultimately, that no man shall have more than six miles of roadway to patrol and this only in sections where the character of the road is such that he can cover it easily and conveniently in a day. In mountainous districts and in places where peculiar formations make the care of the road more onerous the patrol distance will be diminished.

The patrol system is new in Pennsylvania but has been tried with great success in other states. Chief Engineer Uhler is an enthusiastic believer in this method.
